DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the filing of this application on February 12, 2001.

Claims 1-17 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-5, 7-10, 12-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated over Notani et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,567,783).

As per claims 1-5, 7-17, Notani discloses:

receiving a user resources on a user multi-platform computer system, monitoring the workflow, automatically analyzing the processing of said resources to gather information, measure the results and respond to the workflow, and outputting decision-support data (col. 11, line 66 through col. 12 line 55).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3623

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Notani et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,567,783).

As per claims 6 and 11, Notani does not explicitly disclose wherein the said gathering of information, measuring of the results and responding to the workflow permits the implementation of analysis add-on packages and interfaces. However the idea of permitting implementation of analysis add-on packages is well known in the art. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate an analysis add-on packages in the disclosures of Notani with the motivation to better manage information in the workflow. Applicant is referred to col. 6, lines 19-25 of Zinda (U.S. Patent No. 6,393,437) for this well known teaching.
